The royal yards, musts, and rigging, were sent down, the flying-gib-boom got in, to prepare for bad weather off the Cape. We were in the parallel of the Cape, Sunday the 26th, 82 days from Boston There the wind hauled to the westward, which lasted five days, and obliged us to run as far south as latitude 60 ? , where we found the days to be, in length about seven hours, between daylight and dark We encountered quite a number of pretty smart squalls, but on the 25th we had a regular Cape Horner. It struck us about four in the morning, with such powcan turn your energies to, when times er, and a change so sudden, that it required the atmost exertion, and skill to We never knew a man who, with a good | prepare the ship to meet the fierce eacounter. Before the sails could be taken in and furled, the stay sail was carried though you are going to college, or into away. The high combing waves runa profession? The case is not altered, ning quick, and arrested in their course by violent gusts, created on the whole extent of the Ocean's surface, sheets of flying foam. The sudden encounter of winds and waves, caused the latter to mount up into vast moving pyramids of angry foam. The scene was terrific ; the heavy rolling of the sea, which broke in on either beam, the stern now lifted by vortex below. Our ship of 600 tons butden, must have looked comparatively see fit to give; he is the master spirit whose coolness, experience, and intel-

the sacred volume, of not doing unto others, what would approve us, were our ositions reversed .- We found vessels here from all parts of the world. The American sloop of War Vandalia, was lying here, also an English eighty gun ship. It is a most miserable harbor, and in the winter months, (our summer,) quite unsafe. We had the misfortune to se one of our anchors in one of their blows, the calde having parted. The same misfortune also happened to another Californian. I was much more pleased with this place, than with Kio Janeiro. There were a great many more Americans and English people here; at teast two-thirds of the business prople in the city, are of our own countrymen. The place is growing rapidly, owing for the California trade. All Californians, as a general thing, make this port, for a supply of water, provisions, &c. Great quantities of flour are shipped from here o San Francisco; as wheat is raised in great abundance. Vegetables of alf kinds are plenty, which grow very large. I saw radishes three feet long. Onions shout the size of the top of a large bowl, On the 24th, we made the Falk- and other things in proportion. Fruit is very plenteous, such as apples, pears, figs, oranges, lemons. What we call at home the English walnut, is extensively raised, Provisions and goods of all kinds bear most exorbitant prices, for such a fine farming country. Poratoes were selling at $2,00 per bushel, bacon 25 cents per wand, butter from 50 to 75 cents per pound, milk 25 cents per quart, boots from $7,00 to $10,00 per pair. Were # good Vermout farmer to come here, he could in less than five years, make a forune. It is next to a Paradise for soil and climate, but the people, are for the most part, poor. The rich are very rich. It is very rarely, that a lady is seen promenading the streets. As for beauty of face or form, I think they are a head of the Rio Janeiro, but far behind Yankee ladies. The streets are of a good width, but the side walks quite narrow.

The buildings are all after an old plan, and that a thousand years behind the age. There seems to be no improvement, nor do they desire any; and no hotels that deserve the name. The American and English people that are here, came for the sole purpose of making money, and do not pay much attention to the affairs of the government, or to making improvements 1 was not howling of the wind, the tremendous surprised to find that in agriculture as well as many other pursuits, the people were a century behind the age, on acthe sea, and her head plunging into the count of the paralizing influence of Catholicism, which is adverse to all advancement.
